There has been for some time past serious friction between Chief Justice Chambers and Dr. Joannes Raffel (the German President of the Municipality of Apia) and Herr Rose (the German Consul at Apia), arising from mutual recriminations in regard to the conduct of official business and personal differences. Mr. Chambers appears to have been engaged in promoting agitation in favor of the Malietoa party. this is condrmed we shall ask for an expla-tion, as such conduct is a direct contravention of the Berlin Treaty, which expressly provides that the Chief Justice shall not meddle with national elections, but shall remain strictly neutral on such It seems, however, that Mr. Chambers joined in the intrigues of the English missionaries, who feared Protestant interests would suffer by the ascension of the Roman Catholic Mataafa. But the German Government dees not go to the length the German Government does not go to the length of asserting that Mr. Chambers did so act, although, if the reports are confirmed, we shall ask for an explanation. Probably on the American side facts may be adduced tending to show that our representatives also exceeded their proper powers. If complaints are made they will be impartially and smicably investigated. No formal requests or complaints have yet been made by either Government, and there is evidently a desire on both sides to settle the whole difficulty in a friendly way.

"Respecting the latest incident, it seems undenlable that a German created a disturbance, smashing window-panes, etc., but we fail to see how Mr. Chambers deemed it his duty to place the offender under his jurisdiction, instead of leaving him to consular jurisdiction, as the Samoa act prescribed. This action upon the part of Mr. Chambers will also need an explanation.

"The incident, however, is trifling. Our reports indicate that, generally speaking, order now reigns at Samoa."

The correspondent of The Associated Press spoke Ambassador White on the subject, and he said as above statement agreed with his own inforation. Mr. White added that he had not received sesh instructions from Washington, and he had doubt that the troubles would be amicably adsted by the three Powers interested.

DEBATES IN THE DIET.-The debates in the Prussian Diet this week were of especial interest. as they brought out the full extent of the Agrarian demands, and showed that the Prusslan Cabinet is unanimous on the Agrarian question.

The Agrarian party in the Diet is strong, much stronger than in the Reichstag, and the speeches howed that even the National-Liberals support the Agrarians on many questions.

Herr Wallbrecht. National-Liberal, assured the Government that there was a deep feeling of dissatisfaction caused by the agricultural depression in Western Prussia, as well as in the east, and that the sugar crisis had severely hurt the Rhine Provinces. He also expressed the belief that Cuba, under the Americans, will quickly become a dangerous competitor of the German sugar industry, and recommended the Germans to form a sugar trust and raise home prices.

The Agrarian leaders, Mendelsteinfels and Von Wagenheim, were more violent, calling on the Government to abolish the commercial treaties and exclude American, Russian and Austrian agricultural products. Herr Wallbrecht, National-Liberal, assured the PROTECTION OF SECRET BALLOT.-There was an interesting debate in the Reichstag on the bill introduced by Herr Rickert, the Freislandige leader, for the protection of the secreey of the ballot. The two Conservative factions for the first time openly avowed their desire to abolish the secrecy of the ballot, and Emperor William's friend. Baron von Stumm, plainly declared that sooner or later secrecy must be abolished, at which the whole Right loudly applauded. The hill, however, was adopted by a large majority, composed of the Centre and the whole of the Left.

CUBAN TARIFF REGULATIONS.-The official "Reichsanzeiger" has reproduced most of the new Cuban tariff regulations, and the German press greatly dissatisfied with them, asserting that the regulations are so framed as to favor American orts at the expense of German and other Euro-imports at the expense of German and other European imports.

The "Boersen-Courier," the leading commercial organ, dwells particularly on the fact that German staple exports, such as textiles and wines, are most unfavorably treated, and concludes an article on the subject by saying;

"The tariff regulations made by the United States for Cuba know nothing of the open door. Surely something will have to be said about it to them in the future."

DIRECT CABLE TO GERMANY.-The establishment of a company to lay a direct cable between ment of a company to lay a direct cable between Germany and the United States now seems assured. The capital 20,000,000 marks, has been furnished by a number of banks and private capitalists, including the Duke of Ratibor. The German Government is understood to be favoring this and other cable enterprises, and the Reichstag will be asked to make various appropriations in return for pre-emption privileges.

The "Deutsche Zeitung" concludes an article on the subject as follows:

"Thus the first step is taken to free Germany from the British cable monoply, which in the event of war might become fatal to us."

When he was Crown Prince and in command of the Garde-du-Corps, he strictly prohibcommand of the Garde-Au-Corps, he strictly promoited it, and old Emperor William asked him to withdraw his order, but the grandson replied:
"As long as you intrust me with the command of you to relieve me of my post."

The debates showed that, in spite of the Emperor's efforts, gambling is still much in vogue among the officers of the German Army.

SOME OF BISMARCK'S PRIVATE LETTERS. The "Leipsic Neuste Nachrichten" says that a lot of private letters from the late Prince Bismarck to General von Manteuffel, then Governor of the Reichland, containing spicy items of Court and po itical gossip, were sold on Von Manteuffel's death to a Berlin banker having profitable business rela-tions with the Emperor and Court. The banker, it tions with the Emperor and Court. The banker, it is added, paid 40,000 marks for the letters. A Lelpsic writer recently wanted to use the letters for a historical work, and the banker at first promised to lend them. Later, however, he refused, on the plea that it would cost him his valuable clientele, having received an intimation from the Court Chamberlain to that effect.

The Bismarck press chronicles this regretfully, and adds that a third volume of Bismarck's memoirs really exists, giving sensational information regarding the present reign. The manuscript, it appears, was sent to England before Bismarck died.

INSULTS TO EMPEROR AND EMPRESS. His Majesty this week ordered that the park and gardens surrounding Mon Bijou Chateau, in the centre of Berlin, be closed to the public. This is due to a startling incident which has only just become known Last Sunday the Emperor and Empress left the church opposite the Palace and valked toward their carriage, which was waiting waited toward their carriage, which was waiting for them just inside Mon Bijou Park. An enormous crowd had assembled, and it was so dense that Their Majesties had great difficulty in reaching the vehicle. When they succeeded in doing so the coachman was unable to drive off, being hemmed in on all sides. Thus the Emperor and Empress were obliged to listen to the personal comments of the populace, and it is asserted that insulting epithets were flung at the imperial couple. Flushly reinforcements of police made a line through the crowd, and Their Mojesties drove off amid hooting and catcalls.

VIEWS OF THE EASTERN TRIP.-The Emperor engaged in preparations for public performances of a diorama showing the places he visited in the course of his Eastern trip, the pictures being drawn from the photographs taken by his orders in the course of the tour. The performances will be given at the Schauspielhaus and the receipts will be devoted to charity.

NO CIVILIAN CLOTHES FOR OFFICERS. The colonel commanding the 97th Regiment married an English woman, and was induced by latter to introduce the British fashion of officers wearing civilian clothes when off duty. He lately invited the officers of his regiment to dinner, prescribing black evening dress. This reached the cars of the Emperor, who reprimanded the colonel and forbade repetition.

DEATH OF ALICE ATHERTON.

A FAVORITE ACTRESS IN THIS COUNTRY AND IN ENGLAND.

Alice Atherton, the actress, died at the Audubon Hotel, No. 1,416 Broadway, yesterday, after a lingering sickness. The actress had been suffering from pneumonta, which followed an attack of congestion of the lungs. On Friday it was thought that she was improving, but a decided change for the worse set in early yesterday, and her death ecurred at 7:30 a. m.

Alice Atherton was born in Cincinnati about thirty-seven years ago. Her maiden name was Hogan. She went on the stage when very young. She and Willie Edouin met through being members of the same burlesque company, and they were soon afterward married. They were both successful in a series of farces of a class which was popular at that time, such as "Hobbles,"
"Horrors" and "Dreams, or Fun in a Photograph Gallery." In this last both Mr. Edouin and Miss Atherton had excellent parts, and made considerable successes. Miss Atherton also played the part of Teddy in "A Bunch of Keys," and numerous other parts in farces and burlesques. She was an excellent danger and singer, and became a favorite with theatre-goers. About fifteen years ago she and her husband went to England, where Mr. Edouin afterward became the manager of the Strand Theatre. There they had many more successes, and also some reverses of fortune. Miss Atherton returned to this country something over a year ago, under an engagement with Koster & Bial. She sang for some weeks at their music hall, and for the greater part of last summer at the Casino roof garden. She also acted in "Monte Carlo" at the Herald Square Theatre, and in "The Marquis of Michigan" at the Bijou, and appeared at various vaudeville houses. Her last appearance was at Hyde & Behman's Theatre, in Brooklyn, and it was in the course of her engagement there that she was taken sick. She was engaged for a variety theatre in this city for last week. She leaves two daughters, May and Daisy Edouin, who are both on the stage in England. The funeral will take place on Tuesday at the Church of the Transfiguration. Strand Theatre. There they had many more suc-

CLOSING SCENES AT THE GARDEN-MEET-INGS OF CLUBS.

A good attendance opened the last day of the Poultry Show at the Madison Square Garden yes-terday morning. The marked catalogues were on sale and all the prizes awarded, and the cages were nearly all decorated with the association's and the various clubs' riobons. The show has been an undoubted financial success. The finest bird breeders all over the country agree that New-York is the best selling market for fine fowl. has a good show, and buyers from New-England rely on the exhibition there considerably. New-York, however, has been found to be the mart to which owners of country places, not only in the Empire State and the nearby points in Connecticut and Massachusetts, but in the West and South, me in greatest numbers.

The breeding of pigeons is considerable in this neighborhood, as the distribution of the prizes in the carrier classes will show. Pigeons are cultivated in the crowded part of the town. The homing pigeon exhibit was made more attractive yesterday by the placing upon the cages of a number of the finest birds cards giving their records in long-distance flying.

The incubator room remained the most popular part of the show for the general visitors. restaurant has been too small to accommodate the crowds that came to see the chicks hatch out in the boxes. The eggs are nearly all hatched, although there are a few late comers, and the brooders, into which the downy little fellows are put after they have been hatched a few hours, are now filled with them. Chicks were sold to visitors for Chicks were sold to visitors for 25 cents a pair and put in paper boxes for carrying home. Nearly every streetcar that stopped near the Garden had a passenger carrying a box with the chicks in it, and hardly a party of young people left the Garden without a box.

The fifth annual meeting of the American Owl Club was held at the Garden yesterday afternoon. It was decided to adopt the Willetts American standard leg band for 1899, and that in place of silver cups as special prizes silver spoons hearing Eastern shows. The next meeting will be held in the course of the 1900 Poultry Show in New-York. Barb and Carrier Club also held a meeting.

and there was a long discussion as to the of the Willetts or the English standard leg band It was finally decided that the breeders of carriers should use the American band and the breeders of barbs either band they chose,

The American Owl Club elected the following officers for the coming year: President, William Ehinger, Philadelphia: first vice-president, Robert N. Oliphant, Trenton, N. J.; second vice-president, E. W. Bond, Newrik, N. J.; secretary and treasurer, George Feather, Dorchester, Mass.; Executive Committee, G. W. Eckert, chairman: Wellington Kennedy, Charles L. Deane, Dr. Charles H. A. Meyers and Henry S. Adams. The officers elected by the Barb and Carrier Club were. President, D. E. Newell, New-York; vice-presidents, H. Tiemann, Baitimore, and P. Powell, Philadelphia; treasurer, Dr. W. W. White, Baltimore; secretary, James Edmeston, Philadelphia.

Yesterday was the biggest day of the show in point of attendance. The aisless were crowded from early morning till the time of closing. The fashionable attendance was large during the afternoon, Madison-ave, being crowded with carriages. At the close of the show there was a rush to get the birds out of the wire exhibition cages and into the shipping crates. The pigeons were put into carrying boxes containing a separate compariment for each bird. The larger fowl were bundled into cloth-covered crates for shipment by express. WANTED SOME ONE TO PAY HIS BILL.

MAN WHO ORDERED A BIG DINNER AT THE WALDORF-ASTORIA THOUGHT TO BE INSANE.

A good-looking man walked into the Waldorf-Astoria restaurant last evening and ordered : dinner that amounted to $14.65. He ate it with apparent relish, and after completing the meal took his check and calmly walked up to the head waiter and said: "I am sure I have not enough money to pay this check; I wish you would find ome one who can pay it."

Mr. Thomas, the assistant manager, was called Mr. Thomas, the assistant manager, was called, and decided that the man was insane. Special officer Suilivan accordingly placed him under arrest, and called a policeman from the West Thriteth-st, station. At the police station the man said he was George Sevadijiam, twenty-five years old, living at No. 55 West Forty-skuh-st. He said he was a waiter. He offered no explanation of his act, and was locked up. His appearance belies his statement that he is a waiter. He will probably be sent to Bellevue Hospital to be examined as to his sanity.

FATAL RESULT OF A DOG'S BITE.

A NEWARK MAN DIES IN A HOSPITAL FROM HYDROPHOBIA.

McCann, twenty-two years old, living at No. 24 Condit-st., Newark, was bitten by a strange dog on New Year's night, when he was paseing St. Joseph's Catholic Church, in Newark. to cover it with a bit of court plaster. Two days later McCann feit a stinging sensation in his left arm, and, becoming alarmed, he went to the City Hospital, where a physician examined the wound and cauterized it. In the middle of January McCann was unable to use his left arm, and was crippled in the right leg. He went to the City Hospital again, and had the wound cauterized a second time. The pain increased, and his condition became so serious that Dr. R. J. Donnelly was called in. The doctor was of the oddinon that the patient had hydrophobia, and he called in Dr. A. V. Wendell for consultation. On Friday a test was made with water, and McCann was thrown into violent spasms. He was quieted with drugs. Yesterday the spasms returned, with all the evidences of the malady, and a little before midnight last night he died.

KILLED BY FALLING IN THE STREET. Alfred Lavenport, sixty-three years old, of Mata-moras, Penn., slipped on a piece of ice at Thirty-seventh-st, and Seventh-ave, a few minutes after 11 o'clock last night. His skull was fractured, and he died as he was being placed in an ambulance a few minutes later.

Davenport, who was a retired business merchant. was in the city on a visit to his brother Henry, a clerk of the Board of Education, who lives at No. 257 West Forty-third-st. Davenport was a veteran of the Civil War. He was a member of the 5th New-York Volunteers, Duryea's Zouaves, of which he wrote a history.

FRIENDS OF THE PROJECT MEETING

WITH MUCH ENCOURAGEMENT. FURTHER AID SOUGHT FROM CONGRESS, WITH

GOOD PROSPECTS OF SUCCESS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] Washington, Feb. 4.—The committee of citizens of Buffalo and other cities and towns of the Niagara frontier who have been in Washington to ask Congress to authorize a National exhibit at th American Exposition of 1901 have found a friendly celling everywhere. Some of the Pan-American men are still here talking the matter over with their friends in and out of Congress; and really they have an interesting story to tell. Young though their enterprise is, it has a history. It does not now make its first appearance in Congress. It was brought there last year by the unanimously passed memorial of the New-York Legislature, commending it to the favorable recognition of the National body. That favorable recognition was extended by joint resolution passed at the second session the LVth Congress and approved by President Mc-Kinley on July 8, 1898, which not only commended the enterprise to consideration at home and abroad, but added the practical encouragement of giving all exhibits from foreign countries the right of entry sition "merits the encouragement and approval of Congress and of the people of the United States." After so much encouragement, it seems to the New-York delegation that Congress can scarcely with good grace refuse to authorize a Government exhibit such as has been made at all previous expositions. This obligation on the Government made all the stronger by the fact that substantial assurances have been given that Canada and Mexico, at least, will make exhibits in their own buildings at the Pan-American Exposition. The United States could hardly afford to be beaten on its own premises by foreign Powers.

free of duty, and declared that the proposed Expo-

The idea of a Pan-American Exposition on the Niagara frontier first took form at a meeting of the American Exhibitors' Association at Atlanta, in 1895. In 1897 a company was organized to hold an exposition in 1800. The plan was to have a small capital, and "finance" the enterprise by selling bonds in the usual way. When the time came to raise the money for buildings and other expenses the country was on the brink of war, and, as the Paris Exposition had the right of way for the next year 1900, it was thought advisable to postpone the Pan-American for two years, or until 1901. the mean time the people of Buffalo and the frontier generally were thinking the matter over, and they finally resolved greatly to enlarge the scope of the exposition, and, instead of borrowing, try to finance the enterprise themselves. The original in corporation had been under the general corporation act of the State of New-York, but when the people decided to take hold of it themselves they went to the Legislature and asked for the passage of a special act, conferring greatly increased powers, exemption from taxation, and the right to increase the capital stock to $1,000,000. So strong were the popular influences behind the bill, so clear the evidence that it was purely a people's move ment, without selfish or speculative element, that it passed the Legislature in the shortest time per mitted by constitutional limitations, and was at once signed by Governor Roosevelt, being the sec ond measure of the session. This became a law on January 19 of the present year.

Immediately afterward the popular movement for raising the capital stock began in Buffalo. a dinner given on January 21 nearly $500,000 of the stock was taken. On the succeeding Friday, five working days after the beginning of the work, the first $1,000,000 had been taken up. Then the plan was modified. It was resolved to increase the stock to $2,500,000. The work is going on rapidly. There are already over nine thousand subscribers. They are not all in Buffalo. The people of the whole Niagara frontier are aroused, and everywhere are lending a helping hand. The holding of the Exposition is fully assured. The Government is not asked to contribute to the funds of the Exposition but merely to protect its own interests and those of the people whom it represents by making a worthy exhibit of its resources and its operations in war and peace, in science, education, commerce and government. working days after the beginning of the work, the

the people whom it represents by making a worthy exhibit of its resources and its operations in war and peace, in science, education, commerce and government.

This is the case which the people of New-York and the other advocates of the Pan-American Exposition present to Congress, and it has made a most favogable impression on the minds of legislators in both houses. There appears to be no doubt that the Ways and Means Committee will next Wednesday take favorable action on the bill providing for a Government exhibit. General Joseph Wheeler, of Alabama, a member of the Ways and Means Committee of the House, is heartly in favor of making a Government exhibit at the Exposition. He said to-day: "We can't have too many expositions in the country, provided, of course, that they are handled and conducted on broad lines. Each one adds to the Nation's wealth and all as her progress. Vast benefits followed the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia, greater results came from the World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago, and New-Orleans, Atlanta, Nashville and Omaha all added to the arts and the sciences and acted as incentives in manufacture.

at Chicago, and New-Orleans, Atlanta, Nashville and Omeha all added to the arts and the sciences and acted as incentives in manufacture.

"At the present time," continued the General, "we produce over 70 per cent of the steel used in the world and grow 80 per cent of the steel used in the world and grow 80 per cent of the corn, a greater percentage of the wheat, and about 70 per cent of the cotton. We must dispose of the surplus, and that can best he done by extending our trade with other countries. There has been a lack of appreciation of the value of extended trade relations between our country and the republics of South and Central America—not indifference, but what may be termed neglect. We have not worked for the friendship of those people, but the project so enthusiastically faunched by the people of New-York is a spiendid opportunity to atone. The idea of a Pan-American Exposition is in itself a guarantee of greatness. It is so far-reaching that nothing but good can come out of it. Its very title proves, even to the unbeliever, that it is generous local affair."

SAD PLIGHT OF AN AGED MUSICIAN.

"Good Old Father Kraus" is the name by which old Adolph Kraus is known. For twenty years he has played classical selections on his violin, which e has kept from the time he joined the Imperial Orchestra of Berlin, refusing to forego the frugal classic music earned little money for him. He said would learn no other music. He was finally brought to such a state that he fell, sick and faint, in a hallway last night, and he was removed to Bellevue Hospital.

Kraus has lived in a scantily furnished room at No. 161 Pitt-st, for the last seven years.

No. 161 Pitt-st, for the last seven years.

One of the inmates of No. 206 East Eighth-st, was waiking through the lower hallway of the house last night when he found the old man half-ing a few minutes before in the yard, but he had gone away without receiving any money. An ambulance was summoned, and Drs. Christian and McSweeney found that the old man was exhausted. In taking off his overcoat at the hospital they found his violin in a big pocket in the coat. He hugged the instrument as they attempted to take it away, and it was only on the promise of the physicians that they would see that the violin was not harmed that he would let them have it.

THEY SAY WARD BOUGHT POISON. Draper informed Coroner Collins to-day that they were in Hatch's drug store last Sunday when Edward Ward bought carbolic acid. Mrs. Ward, wife of Edward Ward, died on Monday night from poisoning. Coroner Collins and a jury investigated on Tucsday evening, and the jury recommended that Ward be committed to the county jail pending an inquiry by the Grand Jury. Ward denied that he bought poison, and he alleged that he did not know how the carbolic acid got in his house. He is in the Hackensack Jail.

SECTARIAN FEROCITY IN FRANCE. Paris correspondence of the Pall Mall Gazette.

Faris correspondence of the Pall Mall Gazette.

In five days the "Libre Parole" has collected close upon $6,00 francs for the expenses of the action Mme. Henry proposes to bring against M. Joseph Reinarch for having declared, and essayed to prove in the "Siècle," that her husband was the real traiter on the general staff. The list of subscriptions published day by day in the organ of M. Drumont is amusing, or at any rate significant reading. Many of the subscribers accompany their names with plous wishes expressive of the sentiments that have prompted them to put their hands in their pockets.

Two women from Alencon announce that they are "granddaughters of a general of the Empire, who would never have hesitated to have the infamous Dreyfus shot." The women, indeed, are particularly vindictive and violent. There is one of them who describes herself as "a woman who cannot look at the portrait of Relinach without feeling ill." An other opines that "if Mme. Henry had blown out the brains of the hideous Reinach all good French people would have appauded her." M. Félix Faure is thus apostrophized by the donor of a franc: "Throw off your torpor; go rabbit-shooting a little less and Jew-hunting a great deal more." A widow "who sympathized with Mme. Henry hadds that "she should like to see Reinach boiled alive." A Montmartre chemist, who sends live francs, says "he wishes he could make with the fat of gorillas an other that would destroy the Jewish vermin."

One cannibal speaks of himself as a person who "would like to eat a Jew though he should die after the horrible repast." "H. L.," of Lyons, hopes "to be in at the death of the gallows birds, Clémenceau, Reinach & Co." Another worthy sends haif a franc to go toward "the price of a cord to hang a Jew or Clémenceau, the English spy." A number of the subscribers are of course, officers and soldiers, and the sentiments by which they are animated may be seen from the declaration of "twenty-two discussions of the subscribers for of course, officers and soldiers, and the s

GROOMS AND HANLON MANAGER.

The consolidation of the Brooklyn and Baltimore National League baseball clubs and placing them under one management was effected last night at a meeting of the largest stockholders of the two clubs held at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. was brought about at a moment when it was least expected, and when it was thought that the meeting would probably be adjourned without any prospect of a settlement in the near future. The holders of the clubs present were H. R. Vonderhorst and Edward Hanlon, of the Baltimore club, and F. A. Abell and Charles H. Ebbets, of the Brooklyn club. They met in the afternoon, and after a long discussion took a recess, and then went in a body to a nearby hotel. Soon afterward they returned to the Fifth Avenue Hotel, and it was learned that every obstacle in the way of a speedy settlement had been overcome, and that the deal was at last practically completed.

These facts were made public by one of the base ball magnates present, who asked that his name be not used. The informant said that all that now remained to be done was the payment of $10,000 to William G. Byrne, who represents the Byrne interests in the Brooklyn club. The money is to be placed in Mr. Byrne's hands on Wednesday. F. A. Abell owns the largest number of shares of the Brooklyn club and Charles H. Ebbets is the next largest shareholder. H. R. Vonderhorst is the principal shareholder of the Baltimore club, in which Edward Hanlon, who is the president and manager of the team, has a large interest. Messrs. Venderhorst and Hanlon will have a half interest in the consolidated clubs, and Messrs. Abell and Ebbets a similar interest. An approximate estimate of Mr. Abell's interest in the combination is 40 per cent, and of Mr. Ebbet's 10 per cent.

The consummation of the deal, which has been the principal topic of discussion for weeks among baseball "cranks" and others interested in the Nafriends of the Brooklyn team. For years the Brooklyn club has held an unenviable position among the teams of the National League at the end of the season, while the Baltimore nine has either w the pennant or come very near capturing the championship honors. It is a well-known fact that while Baltimore has been represented in the League by one of the strongest nines ever organized, baseball has not been properly supported in that city. On the other hand, it has been demonstrated that a winning team in Brooklyn pays. The consolidation of the clubs will in nowise change, as far as Baltimore and Brooklyn are concerned, the number of clubs that will fight for championship honors of clubs that win hight for campanish this year. The chief effect that the deal will have will be to add strength to the Brooklyn club and to make it one of the best in the League. It is understood that Charles H. Ebbets will continue as president of the Brooklyn club, and that Edward Hanlon will become manager of the team. Hanlon will start South about March 20 with the Brooklyn and Baltimore players.

LONG ISLAND INTERSCHOLASTIC BASEBALL The following seven schools will be represented this year in the Long Island Interscholastic League championship baseball games: St. Paul, of Garden City; Brooklyn Latin, Pratt Institute, Adelphi Academy, Brooklyn High School, Polyechnic and Erasmus Hall. MORFEY WINS THE NEW-JERSEY TRAP-SHOOTING CHAMPIONSHIP

Rutherford, N. J., Feb. 4 (Special).-A challenge shoot for the trap-shooting State championship New-Jersey took place this afternoon on the grounds of the Lyndhurst Shooting Association, at Lyndhurst, between T. W. Morfey, who won the championship six weeks ago from the captain of the East Side Park Gun Club, of Newark, and Captain Money, of Oakland. Each man shot at fifty flying targets, and Morfey Each man shot at any lying larges, and won, breaking forty-seven to Money's forty-four. Harold Money, the captain's son, promptly challenged Morfey to a match on Monday, February 13, and the challenge was accepted. The match is to be shot at Lyndhurst. Nine sweepstake contests were included in to-day's programme.

NAVAL RESERVE TEAM DISAPPOINTS A BROOK-LYN CROWD.

The Naval Reserve hockey team did not come to the Clermont Avenue Rink. Brooklyn, last evening, where it was scheduled to play. In order not to disappoint the crowd, the first and second teams of the Brooklyn Skating Club crossed sticks. The game resulted in a tie, each team scoring 2 goals. In the first half each team scoring 2 goals. In the first half each team scored a point, Dobby making the goal for the first team and McDonald scoring for the second team. At the beginning of the second half McDonald scored for the second team, and it looked as if it would win, but before time was called Dobby succeeded in pushing the puck between the goal posts, tieing the score. The line-up was:

DEAL BETWEEN BROOKLYN AND BALTI; MODERN ATHLETICS IN ANCIENT SET-TINGS.

ERBETS TO BE PRESIDENT OF THE NEW BRIDE. INTERESTING GAMES AT THE THIRTEENTH REGIMENT ARMORY-THE END OF THE GRECO-ROMAN FESTIVAL-SHEL

Modern athletics in Olympian games wound up the Greco-Roman Festival at the 13th Regiment Armory in Brooklyn last night. The festival was held for the benefit of the building fund of the Medical Society of the County of Kings, and it is said that the receipts will foot up a gratifying total. While some of the Grecian decorations had been removed to give the athletes full swing, enough remained to give an Olympian touch. The musi-columns and blue and white streamers completed The prettiest effect, however, was produced by the short straight-away dashes. The athletes started at the front of the building, and after a fortyyard run, emerged into full view through an mense white arch. The armory was thronged, the attendance of women being unusually large.

clans were hidden behind an immense Parthenon, the leader taking his cue for a burst of melody from the sharp crack of the starter's pistol. White

The games were well conducted, and they were well contested. The time made was excellent, A. W. Burlingame, with seven yards' start, made the hundred-yard run in 94-5 seconds. More than thirty aspirants for athletic glory started in the half-mile novice, and after going three laps, were strung clear around the building. To fall back in such a crowd meant to be lost in the shuffle. games were followed by an evening parade by the 13th Battalion, N. G. N. Y.

TWELVE MILES IN TEN MINUTES MADE BY THE REINDEER.

A letter has been received from George M. West, ecretary of the Minnetonka Ice Yacht Club, which he says: The fastest time made on our lake was that of the Reindeer, when sailed by Captain Sampson. She made one run of twelve miles in ten minutes, and another of thirty-one miles in thirty-two minutes and fifteen seconds. This Reindeer is owned by Captain Theodore Wetmore, and once sailed on the Hudson River. Our course triangular one of ten miles in length, and the club

THE CANADIAN CHAMPIONSHIP RACES-NEILSEN'S VICTORIES.

Montreal, Feb. 4.-Ideal conditions favored the annual championship meeting of the Skating Amo-ciation of Canada, held here this afternoon, on the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association rink. In the amateur races the American contingent suffered rather severely, "Jimmy" Drury, of Montreal, capturing every one, except the 200 yards, and that of the Shamrocks. Charles McClave, of the New-York Athletic Club, finished second. Plikie skated a dead heat in the half-mile amateur. By mutual consent the tie was skated off in the three-mile race. Drury winning.

The professional races witnessed the almost complete triumph of Neilsen over Johnson, the former winning three out of the four. Johnson won the half-mile. Nellsen losing his stride on entering the stretch.

The summary of finals follows: Tw. hundred and twenty yards (amateur)-J. Brannan, ontreal, won; C. McClave, New-York A. C., second.

Five miles (amateur)—James Drury won; George Sud-heimer, second; P. R. Sager, West Point, third. Time— Five miles (co. 1)

16.50 Miles (professional)—John Neilsen won; John S. Johnson, second; Norval Baptie, third. Time—15.24%.

COUNTRY HOME FOR CYCLISTS. A meeting of prominent cyclists was held at the Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday to determine on a site for a new country club for cyclists. Among come of those interested in the scheme are W. H. Warde Bingley, C. E. Simms, jr., M. M. Belding, jr., and W. S. Bull. A committee of three was appointed to draw up a constitution and bylaws. There are three sites in view, at Flushing, Bayside and Lynbrook, Long Island. A committee will visit the three places and make a selection. Lynbrook seems to be the favorite site at present.

CORNELL ROWING NOTES.

Ithaca, N. Y., Feb. 4.-It has been definitely decided to call the Cornell 'Varsity crew squad together next Tuesday afternoon for the regular indoor training on the machines. About twenty-five of the candidates, who are eligible for the 'Varsity shell, are expected to report. Cornell will not row at Annapolts this year, the Maryland crew being informed to that effect by Captain Fisher within the last three days. The report to-day that Toronto University will not enter a crew in the Hudson regatta this year was somewhat disappointing to Cornellians. A member of the Athletic Council said: "The report that Wisconsin will not be represented has been discredited, as it is now known at Cornell that the Western university will enter both a 'varsity and a freshman eight."

YALE CREW ON THE WATER. New-Haven, Feb. 4.-The Yale crew candidates were taken out on the harbor for their first day's practice in the open this afternoon. The barge, found satisfactory. Captain Alien had earlier in the day reduced the squad to thirty-three men, dropping six whose work was not up to the standard of this number sixteen, forming two eights, were down for the harbor work.

A HOME VIEW OF MR. BRYAN. From The Boston Herald.

From The Boston Herald.

A gentleman who was formerly a Bostosis has been for many years a resident of the Neb., and is a townsman of William to there, has called at "The Herald office the position that Mr. Bryan occupies at himome. He represents him as an amiable a worthy gentleman, one possessing many a ble qualities, and universally liked by pistownsmen. They are interested in his proming the Nation, and personally wish his success there which is consistent with the good. They deprecate the abuse he too of ceives, and have the feeling that, if those dulge in it knew the man better, all feel bitterness in their hearts toward him we have been decreased in the feeling that, if the bitterness in their hearts toward him we radicated. But they are far from being of the opinion that he is a man of Presidential tions; indeed, the general feeling among that the country has taken him too serios this respect.
